Ms betty was the most sweetest woman ive ever had the pleasure of meeting. I was going through a divorice and staying with a friend and i noticed the neighbors back yard was so over grown u couldnt even tell it was a yard. I asked my friend if anyone lived next door she said a lil old lady who has lived there for yrs but that she had only seen her a few times. I found that sad so me being in total turmoil in my head and heart i thought itd b a good idea to clean up her yard, well days into it she put a picture album out on her porch with her phone number and i swear that was the most BEAUTIFUL yard i had ever seen. It breaks my heart that she didnt have any family to help her care for her. She had burried her 3 sons and her husband poor baby was so sweet and she helped save my life i hope she is in peace now. All she wanted was to see her sister one last time and i hope if she reads this she knows how loved she is. God bless!
