“ My brother,my hero. Danny was in bed with the mumps, we just had a big snow.Mom and Tom had to go to town. Danny jumped out of bed, im going rabbit hunting. I said what if you pass out, i better go. He got a rifle out of Toms closet and one of mom’s pillow cases.He showed me how to track rabbits in the snow. He shot a bunch. Then he showed me how to find squirrels yp in the trees, he shot a bunch and taught me how to skin them. Then we ran across a pump jack, he said ill turn it off at this switch, climb on top, you turn it on, ill ride it.He rode it like a bucking horse. Then we continued on , we ran across the frozen pond, we decided to ice skate. The ice broke and i fell in, the ice kept breaking and i couldn’t get out, Danny said ill get you out, he grabbed me and broke the ice until we got to shore. Wet and freezing we ran home.Put warm clothes on and Danny jump back in bed. Mom and Tom got home. Mon checked on Danny he was running a fever and sick the next day. Mon found out we went hunting, and she cooked the rabbits and squirrels. He didn’t get into trouble because he was sick. He saved my life that, my Brother, my Hero. I Love You Brother.

“ Danny is my brother, I love him very much. He liked to hunt and fish, especially in my he snow to track rabbits . He could cook the best fish i ever ate. He loved chickens and birds. He had a bird sanctuary in Rockford Illinois for 5 years with all kinds of birds that people could come to see for free. He loved dogs and always had dogs. Grandpa Miller loved to coon hunt and had many coon dogs, it was enstilled in Danny from his grandfather. He got his love for birds from his cousin Earl Long that raised chickens when we lived in Wynona. Also Danny had pigeons, special tumbling pigeons that i enjoyed watching with him on Mom and Toms farm in Barnsdall where we grew up most of our lived, raising chickens and rabbits and cows.He helped Tom raise pigs and cows , plow fields , bail hay. He was married 3 times and had a full life. Our hearts are heavy and we love and miss him. Tell your family and friends you love them because tomorrow is not promised.
