My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. Here a few lines from one of my favorite hymns: "If you hear of my home-going, don't you worry about me. I'm just another soldier on my way home".

“ How are we ever going to replace all those great visits shared over our back yard fence? Bragging about an exceptional plant (and you definitely had the best tomatoes this year) or commiserating about the crabgrass. Your ready smile always made us smile a little wider, and our lives were so much brighter for being included in the love you shared with all your canine buddies. We're going to miss that smile and Missy getting frantic whenever she saw the Woofers box come out.

Our sincere sympathy to all the family and other friends who loved Al, we share in your loss. We just lost our best neighbor and good friend

“ When I was about 8 or 9 years old, Grandad was giving me a haircut with a set of shears that had a large guard on it so that my hair wouldn't be too short. Well, halfway through the haircut, Grandad was trimming the very top of my head and the guard slipped off, accidentally cutting a strip of my hair as short as the shears went. He said, "oops!" Startled, I immediately looked up and said "oops?!" I don't really remember what happened next, but I'm sure Grandad just laughed. :) He had the BEST sense of humor and was one of the most loving and caring people I have ever known. I am so proud and forever thankful that the Lord blessed me with such a wonderful and fun loving Grandad who is a huge part of the reason why I am the person that I am today. He helped my mom raise me. He was such an inspiation to me in the way that he lived his life and treated other people. He would do anything to bring a smile to people's faces and was successful except for the time that he accidentally punched one of my baby teeth out during a wrestling match one day. I'm smiling now though. :D He taught me so many things that I will carry with me throughout my life. Words cannot express how much Grandad has meant to my life and how he will always mean to my life. He was truly the best man I have ever known and he will continue to live on in my heart and in my mind. I know that he is now free of the burdens that this world inevitably brings. He's joyfully flying high and is forever at peace in the dwelling place of God! Welcome to Paradise Grandad! We all love you, miss you and will be seeing you! :D
