“Dear Coty, I didn't know you very well. I only got introduced to you on two ocassions. But you appeared to me that you were a cool guy that had alot going for you. I can remember at your parents house you trying to find your tooth that you lost and we were teaseing you about putting it under your pillow so that the tooth fairy would bring you money. That was the night before your accident and had I known that was the last day I would see you I would have stayed and spent more time with you. Its crazy how we take for granted that we will see are friends again and we all need to take the opportunity to tell people we know how we feel about them and give them a hug because that could be the last time we talk to them. I know because when my brother was killed I didn't get to tell him I Loved him and give him a hug. I know you are in a better place than we are so have fun and be cool and I'll see you when Jesus comes and takes us home.

“ There are not words to comfort...so I will send my thoughts and prayers. My thoughts of Coty as a warm hearted red headed boy that gave my son precious time and happy memories. Clint and Jenny adored him and are thankful for the time spent with him. My prayers that he finds peace in the hands of our Lord.

“Coty Ray we are going to miss you so terribly bad, But we pray that you're at peace, we never planned on you leaving us in this world so soon, after we just got you back home not even * 8 mos. ago.. We can find some comfort in knowing the day you went to heaven you were doing what you loved the most in life...riding a motorcycle,, you were a great rider anyone can attest to that..and that morning was no different to us, except for it was your day to go be with our heavenly father, and several of those who left our lives before you..I know your riding on the wings of the angels up there honey...Enjoy the beauty that i know is surrounding you..we will meet you there one day our precious angel, when its our day to come join you..until then son please watch over us and keep us safe like you always did here on earth.. We love and miss you so very much.. Dad and Mom YOU ARE FOREVER IN OUR HEARTS!!!
