“ I am so glad that God put my uncle Dale in my life. Dale was a younger brother to my mom, Joyce Kelly and as I was growing up he always made me feel included. He took the time to take us fishing, play horseshoes or just look for four leaf clovers. I remember catching a turtle at grandma and grandpa's house and he helped me paint my name on the turtles back and set him free. He said you will be able to see if he comes back. Uncle Dale was selfless and generous, he was soft spoken but fiercely loyal to his friends and family. He didn't use many words but would be an example to those near to him including me. Even though as I grew older the time I got to see him grew farther apart, the memories I have of him are pleasant and clear. I will miss having him on earth but I am comforted in knowing that he is with Jesus, with no more pain, no more suffering and no more tears. Goodbye for now Uncle Dale.

With love, Scott Kelly
