“ I will miss those early mornings before church. David would have the coffee going and bulletins ready. But the best part was listening and talking with David as he referred to his notebook full of his Bible study notes. David loved to study God's Word. It was a joy to come to church early, to talk with David. I'm rejoicing that David knew the Lord, and his hope and trust was in the crucified risen Savior.

“ David was a wonderful Christian man who loved his Lord and desired to be with his Lord in heaven. He loved to read God’s word and talk to other people about God’s word. He had a true servant’s heart as well. I enjoyed fishing with David and talking to him about God’s word. ”
