“ The roughneck stood and faced his God, which we must all come to do. He hoped his boots weren't to dirty to get his pass on through."Step forward now, roughneck. How shall I deal with you? Have you always turned the other cheek? To My church have you been true?"

The roughneck squared his shoulders and said "No, Lord, I guess I ain't, Because those of us who wear hardhats can't always be saints. I've had to work most Sundays, and at times my talk was rough,and sometimes I've been violent,Because the rigs are awfully tough,But I never took a penny,that wasn't mine to keep....Though I worked alot of overtime,when the bills just got too steep, and I never passed a cry for help, though at times I shook with fear, and sometimes,God forgive me, I've wept unmanly tears. I know I don't deserve a place among the people here. They never wanted me around I usually caused a lot of fear.If you've a place for me here,Lord,It needn't be so grand. I never expected or had too much,But if you don't.....I'll understand."

There was silence all around the throne where the saints had often trod. As the roughneck waited quietly,For the judgement of his God. "Step forward now roughneck,You've borne your burdens well. Come work a hitch on Heaven's streets,You've done your time in hell.
