“ *I've only known Dennis (I called him Ed) for a short time. He made my dream come true twice in that time with bringing friends to play music with me and blessing me with a picking for my birthday. He taught me something on the bass that I didn't know too!
You didn't have to talk to him long and you'd know who his hero was, John Wayne.
He ate John Wayne food, had memorabilia of John Wayne and even had a roll of his toilet paper! Lol!
He knew almost every gospel song in the book and one I had never heard of called, "somewhere between Jesus and John Wayne." I told you he loved that man. Haha!
I had the privilege of hearing how he gave his heart to the Lord.
What a precious thought that I will be able to see my friend again one day when my life on earth is over. I love you Ed and miss you so much. Till we meet again pardner.

“ I first met Dennis when we worked for a short time at a plastics place in Dewey called WedTech. We became great coworkers and friends and I found out he was somehow kin to my mom on the Adcock side. He was such a sweet man. We both left there and went to the research center and although at the same facility, didn't see each other much. I bought some furniture from he and Linda a couple of years ago and it was so nice to see them. Special surprise was seeing Doug and Sandy at their house too. I was so very sorry to hear of his passing. He was always wonderful to me. Hugs to Linda, Kim, Sandy and the rest of the family. You all are in my prayers.
