

Jacob J Pyatte

August 31, 1988 - June 12, 2024

Jacob Pyatte was a loved husband, son, brother, and friend. He passed away suddenly on June 12, 2024, at the young age of 35, leaving behind a legacy of kindness, perseverance, and loyalty.

Jacob was born in Bartlesville on August 31, 1988, and spent most of his life there. He graduated from Bartlesville High School in 2007. His love for technology started young, and continued on in his work, and daily life. He loved gaming in all forms, and became a Twitch streamer so that he could share that love with the world.

He met his wife Sami in June of 2018, and they were married on October 12, 2019. He called her his sunflower, and he was her honey bee.

One of his greatest pleasures was spending time with family and friends. He lived life to the fullest and will be remembered for his big heart and personality. He left a mark on all those he loved in the Bartlesville community.

Jacob is preceded in death by his mother, Marion Kline; brother, Dakota Pyatte; and his furry companion, Reggie.

Jacob is survived by his wife, Sami; dad, Steve Kline; brother, Jason (Amanda) Holtzen; brother Cody (Emily) Pyatt; brother, Marcus (Kasi) Wells; sister Lacy (John) Ferguson; 4 nieces, 5 nephews, many friends, and extended family.

A memorial service will be held at 11 am on Saturday, June 29, 2024, at City Church, 4222 Rice Creek Rd, Bartlesville, OK 74006. We will attempt to stream or record the service for those unable to attend. Jacob respectfully requested that people “come as you are” and dress casually.

“ I don't check Facebook often but I did today and saw Jacob was gone. I'm not sure people will read this, I'm sorry I'm late to this terrible news. I met Jacob when we were both young and in school, on Xbox playing games like Halo. Jacob was one of the very first friends I met when I got my xbox and we'd spend so much time just talking, gaming, and laughing. He really was such a kind spirited guy and his good vibes were contagious. Wherever you are Jacob I know you're making it a brighter place. Rest in peace man.

“ Jacob, it's been a few days and I'm still having a hard time accepting that you're gone. It seems cruel that you left us so young and with so much going for you in life. We met at Hannah's birthday party, all those years ago, and even though we didn't see each other in person often, we talked a lot either on the phone or online after that; we gamed together and checked in with each other often. Then we both had big life changes and even though we didn't speak as often, i still was so glad to have you as a friend and fellow tech nerd who i could literally ask anything to and you would know the answer or know where to get the answer. And can we talk musical taste? I can never thank you enough for all of the awesome bands you introduced me to over the years. I still jam to Polyphia daily. I'm just so sad that we won't get to talk anymore or that we won't get to watch each other continue to grow in the tech field. I'm just gonna miss talking to you so much, the world truly lost one of its brightest and kindest people. I'm going to miss you forever my friend. Sending love and comfort to your dear wife and family.

“ knowing you through elementary school and high school has always been a joy. you were always so kind and special. everyone loved you, at least the ones that mattered. working with you and having you as my supervisor at DSR was a gift, and all the times you stood up for me and gave me words of encouragement will stick with me forever. its hard to know you're gone from this earth, but knowing you get to see your mama and brother again makes things a little lighter. we'll miss you down here, don't forget to send us signs that you're with us every now and then <3 choosing the yellow candle because sunflowers and bees were the highlight of you and Sam's wedding, and that day was so special. sending love, light and peace. Love you, brother!

“ Jacob and I met through our mutual friend Tony when Tony and I worked at Taco Bueno together. Ever since then, he and I became great friends. Jeremy (j-bone) and I introduced him to our "inner friend circle" that consisted of Me, Jeremy, Caleb, and Bill. We all also worked at bueno and our friend circle just grew from there. We made a lot of ridiculous videos, which are still on YouTube to this day. I was actually watching some of these the other day after I heard about his passing, we had some good times and this made me miss him even more.

Sammy, I unfortunately didn't get to know you very well, but I know Jacob loves you and that was good enough for me. Thank you so much for being a part of this great mans life and bringing some much needed happiness to it. I know you are going through an extremely hard time right now, but you will have all the support you need and we are all here for you!

“ I have not known Jacob long. Maybe only a few years which is probably considered not long for the lots of you. He and I were gaming friends. We called most of the nights just to have fun and not talk about the real world. He truly was a shining star showing us how much happiness someone can have in the dark.

Most would say something super sweet or funny he would say... or maybe something showing his true kind heart but I am going to go a different route. My favorite memory of Jacob was only a few days ago. He and I both loss someone important from cancer (his mom and my aunt). We grew close to due being each other comfort during those hard time. Before he passed.... He messaged me. He said he was scared. He did not know what was wrong. He was scared for himself, his family and for his friends. I comforted him. Told him everything will be okay. That no matter what, his friends will take care of Sammy. I told him to not give up hope just yet. The next day, he sadly passed. I think what I told him gave him so much comfort.... knowing he did not have to go down the hard path, because he knew the amount of wonderful people he had in his life. This is a good memory because.... It showed that we were truly great friends. We were people who met online and he showed just as much friendship from being online than anyone else he met in person. He will truly be missed. He was a wonderful friend and we will never find a Tuna (his username) like him ever again. I loved ya Tuna, please enjoy seeing my aunt and your mom in heaven.
