“ Well most of you would like for me to quietly go away. But you left out the fact that Janet was a MOM. A damn good one. She WAS MY mom. And no rumor or bad choice or addiction will ever take away the fact that I was her daughter. She may of not of liked what I did or believed me when I didn't, but she was the women that I called mom, and she was the women that raised me . Everything good inside of me is because of Janet. She was stubborn and strict and gave me some of the best years of my life. I'm posting this now only because I know no one looks at this anymore and I need to grieve just like everyone else. I'm writing this for me, to say my peace with MY MOTHER. That women taught me more than any of you will ever know. So R.i.p Mom, I'm sorry I let you down. I fight everyday to make you proud again. I love you .

“ I used to work with Janet at the Bartlesville School District she was the dispatcher used to come on the radio every morning and wish all of us drivers a good morning or she would have something funny to say to help get our day going same way in the afternoon she helped make driving School Bus bearable... Her and I became very close friends for several years, I'm grateful for that, it's so shocking to find out that she's gone, but now she's with her mom and her brother Steve... I will always cherish our friendship and our time together...
Love always, Donna

“ May 29, 2020.... my last verbal words to her were "The casino is open now.... she said that's where we are headed, I'll wear my mask".

🍷 Every year in would say... "Janet I am gonna get Chevelle to play Sunfest...she would let me live my fantasy and just say "You go get your boys and we'll talk".

Other notables:

😞 "You Done?"-- when I would go and just need someone to spout off at and listen and then bring me back to reality.

😂 "You're going to cost me a quarter for texting this, but I saw a photo and I thought of you".. BW lives!

🐶 "Oh there's a PUPPY....here puppy, Merry Christmas!"
I can't comprehend yet, but I always be watching for the women with a QT cup walking annoyingly to me and trying not to crack a smile because you know you wanted to see us too.

I love you Janet. We will always make you proud.
