“ Jason, I wanted SO bad to get to know you as my baby cousin! In some other world, we probably were bestest buddies. You are SO lucky I didn't find curlers, or there would be pics. :) I'm sorry we couldn't have spent more time together, but I know it would have been fun! Tell your Dad I miss him, and he is loved as much as you.

“ You were my first true love and the proud father of our Paige. There are so many good things I will remember about you and our early years. I am so thankful that Paige was able to spend the last year and a half of your life together. I saw your mom tonight and you always reminded me so much of her. Your mannerisms and the gift of gab. Your precious Gabby is a mirror image of you. You have two beautiful daughters who love and adore you and will remember you always. Goodnight my friend. Like you always said "Smile, someone loves you!"

“ I hadn't seen Jason in awhile. But he was always a wonderful friend. I remember walking to the pool and having frozen Snickers. We were inseparable for a long time. I switched schools in jr high but we still kept in touch. He was the best guy friend I have ever had. Even to this day. I will miss him greatly, but the legacy he leaves behind is one of happiness. Jason and I were the wind beneath each others wings. I picture him above us gliding with that smile. He had the best and most sincere smile. Always looking for the good in others and willing to be friends with anyone. To my friend Jason. I will forever keep ur memory alive. I love you!! May peace be with you and your family.
