“ I remember as a kid, Aunt Karen would take my cousin and I down to her hour for a week in the summer and when we came back, she would take my brother and my other cousin down for a week. We used to have a blast decorating each other's house on Christmas. It is a tradition that we no longer do but it was so much fun. She will be missed immensely.

“ I already miss her. We used to do so many things together. One time she was picking me up after work and I told her to be there with bells on. She did. She had a big bell tied around her neck. I always tried to beat her to the punchline. She would tell people she was "the good Karen and I was the bad Karen". I would tell them "I am the good Karen and she is the bad one". Well, she was the onery Karen. Any time I said "go" she was ready. Wanda, Karen and I had lots of good times. She was a good friend and a good neighbor. I know we will meet again one day.
