“ Lawrence and I shared an interest in the civil war . On several occasions Lawrence and I were called upon to be President Lincoln's personal body guards. On several occasions when President Lincoln was talking at schools in the area. I remember trying to find a uniform that would fit him and with his musket in hand he would have no problem keeping the school kids in line, most only came to his waist. As a member of Co. C 8th Wisconsin Lawrence looked right at home sitting around the camp fire and sharing his latest information he found about the civil war. I will remember those talks.
