“ *Mike was my second cousin. Our fathers were cousins. Such a nice man. I was very saddened to learn of his death after being in touch with him only a few months ago. Even though we were not in regular contact, we could always pick up right where we left off from the last communication. Gone too soon. My condolences to the rest of his family and friends. “ Mike was our next door neighbor for the last three years and a good one. We replaced a shared privacy fence together, and he answered lots of questions about our new neighborhood and house. We will miss his friendly chats and waves.
