“ I will never forget your gentle and steady voice, your straightforward opinions, your honest advice, and your warm hugs. I remember staying the night at your cabin and waking up early in the morning to go out on the small balcony to watch the hummingbirds eat and you coming out to get me for breakfast. I wish I had come to see you more as an adult and brought my children to meet you too. I love you Grandma Norie and I will miss you until we meet again in heaven. Rest in peace Grandma Norie.
