“ Paul was my mentor in 1992. Him and I would work the window together. We didn't need anybody's help. We would run $1500 nights, I don't know how but we did. At that time we put the price on the sack and wrote every order down that's how we kept track. We cussed each other a lot. He's helped my kids with their homework, employed most of my family, always respected us. He will be truly missed. He couldn't hear for crap lol. I remember him talking to or yelling at a deaf customer a couple of times. They became really good friends. His name was Danny. They wrote notes after that. I'll never forget you Paul and love you so much!

“ I'll always remember Paul sneaking up behind me when I was cooking on the hamburger grill and saying, "Mary May, did you know you are the best hamburger cook Murphys has ever had?" Talk about words making your day...those did. He will be dearly missed.
