“ I met Richard about 3 years ago at Gans Mall and we have been friends ever since. He was a kind, considerate, compassionate, and very intelligent man and I will truly miss our time together. We talked for hours on the phone and use to visit almost every day. I am sad to say the last few months I didn't get to visit as I would have liked. He was a devoted friend, and neighbor to all. He repaired bikes and gave them to children that didn't have one. Picked vegetables from his beautiful garden and shared them with friends and family. Always there to lend a hand but was also stubborn when it came to accepting help for himself! Was very old school and a Gentleman 100% of the time. When he broke his ribs last year it was so difficult for him to accept help from friends and family. We did have a few battles over this, small one, that I will say I won only because he was incapacitated. We laughed over this later and he finally let others help. Just not too much. He loved his children and we talked about them often. His furbabies Holly and Toby were his children at home. Richard was so good to my Grandchildren, Hailey and Kyla. He added a DVD player to the sunroom so the girls could watch movies, TV, eat popcorn and play with his dogs. Great times. My daughter Tammy would visit and enjoyed her talks with Richard. We went to Tulsa and visited my daughter MeShell and Christmas shopped. MeShell and I visited Richard and were going to bring her new baby to visit him after he was born but time took that away. There is a hundred more things I could say about Richard, but I'm sure you can too. Goodby my sweet loving friend till we met again.
