“ I miss you Bo. I was very luck to call you dad. Not everyone is lucky enough to have a step father as great as you, I never even considered you a step dad, just dad. You didn't have to, but you took me and my brothers in as your own. You went to our games, and taught us so much that I will forever be grateful. You never hesitated to help, no matter how far or how busy you were. Alot of my best memories growing up were with you. Your grand-daughters talk about you daily, they love and miss their papa Bo. You were truly an amazing person, and I am very thankful to you. I don't think there was ever a better match for my mom. You are truly one of a kind. I could spend days writing of all the amazing times with you. I love you Bo. Rejoice in Heaven, and i know you didn't like to fly, but spread those wings and soar.

“ Daddy, I'll never regret the countless hours spent with you in doctors offices, the chemo room, and most importantly on the fishing banks!!! I'd do it all over again for just a little more time with you!! The cancer didn't truly win, because even in the end it never took your humor, your love of your family, and who you were as a person. I got my love for fishing, my hard working spirit, and the need to want to help everyone I can all from you. But I did not get your green thumb. That skipped me for sure. I loved you for my whole life, and I'll also miss you for the rest of it. See you later daddy.
