“ My grandma was the most loving person in the world. There was not a single person that she wouldn't take in and love as her own. Knowing her was an honor that anyone could've had. At 24 losing both grandparents two years apart is extremely difficult, but grandma is with her mom, dad, sisters and her one and only true love. there will never be a second that i don't miss her, but i will forever carry her with me. i was truly blessed to have had her as my grandma.

“ My sweet mother had a huge heart with an unending capacity for love. She was always trying to help and if she couldn't help she was darn sure going to feed you! She loved unconditionally. There was no sin that could stop her from loving you. She would add you to her prayers and love you even more. She leaves a void that can never and will never be filled in our family. She died peacefully in her sleep. She literally went to sleep in her bed and woke up nestled in the arms of Jesus surrounded by loved ones who had gone before her.
