“ Once when I was little I was staying with grandma sandy, and I painted her toes bright red, then we walked down the road to the oak park school & played on the playground equipment, grandma’s favorite game “big bad wolf” if you know.. you know. Anywho after we got back home grandma took her shoes off & attempted to take her socks off when she realized her socks had dried to her toenails 🤔 I feel forever cherish the wonderful memories I have with you! I love you so much, until next time❤️
