“ I sent this to Shirley and Jon on his Birthday 10/1/2015

To my wonderful sister Shirley, and her special son Jon: Just a few ramblings to two special people in my life.

There are two great days in a person's life - the day we are born and the day we discover why. I honestly think you both have reached both of those days.

I know you both wish things had been different, but both of you must realize that both of you have very different answers to the "Why" with your lives through the years.

Sister; you have three beautiful daughters, and their families that you probably would not have had. Although there have been many trying times, you have succeeded in influencing three unique lives that have grown into adults with their own families. You have a wonderful husband that I love like a brother. Now you have a wonderful son again in your life.

Jon; You have a beautiful wife Tonya now that you may not probably have had. This includes your other family. You obviously also have many experiences that I don't know about. You have shown me in the short time I have known you, that you have all the qualities many men never obtain. The greatest gift that you can give to others is the gift of unconditional love and acceptance. This is two qualities I seen in you right away. Today you are you! That is truer than true! There is no one alive who is you-er. Now you have your mother in your life.

A birthday is just another day where you go to work and people give you love. Age is just a state of mind, and you are as old as you think you are. You have to count your blessings and be happy. I am so happy that both of your lives has finally become one.

Let us never know what old age is. Let us know the happiness time brings, not count the years. Cakes are special. Every birthday, every celebration ends with something sweet, a cake, and people remember. It's all about the memories. Your memories will be together for the rest of your years.

Presents don't really mean much to me any more. I don't want to sound mawkish, but - it was the realization that I have a great many people in my life who really love me, and who I really love. I am so lucky to have both of you.

I intend to live forever. So far, so good. Tomorrow is a new day.

Your Rambling Brother, and Lucky Uncle
