“ Susan, or Prairie Flower as we almost always called her, (her on-line name) has been a friend to many of us here for over 2 decades.

From the darkest times to the brightest times, she's been there, dependable, loyal, and full of good advice. Whether on cheese, food, chocolate, pizza, friends, medical, holidays, travel, how to live. And all dispensed willingly on Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Whether in chat or during a trivia quiz.

I can remember so many wonderful memories of her. Holidays over here in the UK, visiting Sue, and trips in the USA, to her home in Oklahoma, then to the East coast, and up to Boston and New England. Her humour and interest in any food / chocolate. Her love of travel and seeing new places. Of meeting up with friends that she'd known for so long.

At this difficult time for all of us, I can only think good of pf, because that is all there is about her. Always a good friend, to so many of us, for so many years.

You will not be forgotten.

“ Susan was known to many of her online friends as Prairie Flower, or PF for short. A group of us first met on CompuServe in the mid 1990s on the NewsForum and World Community Forum and others, and some of us, including PF until a couple of weeks ago, still meet every week to this day, to play trivia or just to chat. She was proud of the times she beat our best players.

She enjoyed her visits to England and to other friends and was a gracious host when we came to stay.

*She took a keen interest in people, asking after our health and doings, and what she dubbed my SueMobile (camper van).*

*Her character shone through, particularly her love of her parents, her children and grandchildren, her dog Blue, and cheese. Also her and her parents' homes, which we called 'Ranch PF'. She used to joke about her 'pole dancing' accident - one of many running jokes - and used to generously give us Brits extra 'u's, since we use more of them.*

Her caring nature also showed up in her work, and how she would have vegetarian days despite her love of burgers and steaks, and living in cattle country.

She will be missed.

*RIP ((((((PuuuuuF))))))*

*I will miss PF... always... this will not heal. She has been a cheerful voice the last 20+ years... her war with technology, looking to torch Gerards Atlas, and wishing maths would solve their own problem. Love always PF .*
