“ I met Susan a few months ago on facebook poker, she joined our group of 'regulars', and we had a ball. When we first met she told me she couldnt bluff very well, so from time to time we would open a separate chat box, and I would give her direction.... she ended up being pretty damned good. A week or so before she passed, she told me it was in Gods hands and that she was ready, so.....I must believe she s a lot better off than we are....
