“ Jean I'm so sorry for your loss. I just saw this today. My memory of your brother was of him bringing your mom bananas just about every day. I have good memories of my time spent in your home. I know your brother will be deeply missed. If you need anything, esp in this cold weather, let me know. You're in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Some of my best memories were in High School. We chummed around quite a bit. One day he came over to my house and picked me up in his Mustang. He was upset about something and out of the blue we were headed to TJ. We never made it but it was so spontaneous trip. Neither of our parents knew where we were headed. He would always come over on Wednesday to watch the Johnny Cash show. Always on time and staying until the end and eating my moms warm tortillas. My mom really cared for him. Rest in peace, my dear, darling friend.

“ I loved listening to Tim play his guitars. From the band he was in in high school during the Battle of the Bands era in Los Angeles to sitting in his bedroom and playing together a few months ago.

“ The first time I met Uncle Tim was when, I helped my husband Brian find his biological Mom-Jackie (Hussey) Gunter. We made arrangements to meet Jackie and Tim. We drove up to Bartelsville to Jackie and Tim's home. The second time I saw Tim was after Mom-Jackie had passed away. Tim gave a guitar to each of my daughters-Ashley and Hanna. My daughters cherish the guitars that Uncle Tim gave them.

R.I.P Uncle Tim-we miss you and love you.
